

Ken Chen & Antuan Athari

Mr. Jamieson

ICD20

October 24, 2023

Why and How Will AI Save the World

Many believe AI will be the dawn of man but in reality it could save mankind. In the future AI will most likely take over children's learning, aside from taking away the teachers' job, AI can teach anything and anywhere. AIs are able to teach anyone and anything as they use the entire internet as knowledge. By using the entirety of the internet as a textbook AI can gain infinite knowledge. Unlike normal teachers AI are able to teach multiple subjects at once and correct assignments while giving out assignments at the same time. AI as a teacher is also able to teach without making a single mistake, AI offers no human mistakes or errors allowing teaching the next generation to be error free and hopefully creating a better and greater generation. Not only can AI be used for teaching it can also be used to replace or aid scientific research. Being a machine it can work overtime endlessly, thus being able to speed up the process of scientific research and the process of creating new inventions. Many believe AI will take over the world and assimilate the human race just like the Terminator foretold but perhaps it could aid us in our limited time on earth and create a better place for the coming generations.

Work Cited

Andreessen, Marc, “Why AI Will Save This World” a16z.com, June 6, 2023, <https://a16z.com/ai-will-save-the-world/>